July 4, 2018

Naoyuki Ono
Dean, Graduate School of International Cultural Studies
Tohoku University

Information for application

1. Job type: Associate Professor or Senior Assistant Professor
(The successful applicant will belong to the Department of International Politics and Economy.)

2. Area of expertise: International Economy

3. Courses to teach:
1) Graduate-level lecture “International Economic Relations”
2) Other graduate courses in the Graduate School of International Cultural Studies
3) Undergraduate liberal arts courses

4. Qualifications:
1) Applicants must have a Ph.D.
2) Applicants must be able to do research at our graduate school.
3) Applicants must be able to teach at graduate and undergraduate levels.
4) It must be at least five years since applicants graduated from university.
5) Applicants for the associate professor must have an at least three year career (or its equivalent) as an associate professor, a senior assistant professor, an assistant professor, or a research associate at university; applicants for the senior assistant professor must have an at least one year career (or its equivalent) as a senior assistant professor, an assistant professor, or a research associate at university.
6) The applicants’ area of expertise should be in the field of international economy. A focus from a broad perspective on key issues concerning International Economy – such as international trade, international currency, foreign investment, development economics, international assistance and international political economy – will be an asset.
7) Applicants, of any nationality, must be able to teach in Japanese and English.

5. Date of appointment: April 1, 2019

6. Applicants must submit:
1) A copy of their signed CV with a photo in a sealed envelope.
2) A list of publications including books, papers, presentations, etc. For papers, indicate whether they were peer-reviewed or not.
3) Original or duplicate copies of five major publications selected from the list (offprints are also accepted).
4) Summaries of the three major publications selected from the list, written in Japanese, each within 1,000 letters.
5) Statements of her/his plans about research and education at our graduate school, each on one A4 sheet, written in Japanese. His/her achievements in research and teaching should be mentioned.
6) Additional materials may be requested when necessary.

7. Deadline for submission: September 6 (Thu), 2018. All the application materials mentioned above must arrive by this date.

8. Selection procedure: Initially, applicants will be screened based on their submitted materials. Then, short-listed applicants will be interviewed.

9. Postal address:
Graduate School of International Cultural Studies
Tohoku University
41 Kawauchi, Aoba-ku
Sendai, Miyagi 980-8576
Japan
(Attn: Dean, GSICS)
*Put clearly the words “Application Documents Enclosed” in red on the envelope, and send by registered mail.
*The application materials will not be returned.

10. Inquiries should be sent to the Administration Office, GSICS, Tohoku University.
Phone: 022-795-7541
Fax: 022-795-7583
E-mail: int-som@grp.tohoku.ac.jp

11. Additional information can be obtained from our website (http://www.intcul.tohoku.ac.jp/).

© Tohoku University is positively promoting gender equality.

For more information on gender equality including child care support services
http://www.morihime.tohoku.ac.jp/100th/shishin.html