Graduate Program in Global Governance and Sustainable Development (G2SD),
The Graduate School of International Cultural Studies (GSICS)

Application for Master’s Program (2-year course)
For October 2020 Admission

I. Aim
The aim of this graduate program is to enhance one’s ability to advance global governance and sustainable development. Since the challenges associated with these tasks are complex and inter-linked, what is needed to deal with them is the ability to question conventional wisdom and to design innovative analytical frameworks on the basis of inter-disciplinary knowledge. This program intends to develop such ability through a combination of critical reviews of theories, on the one hand, and problem-oriented empirical studies, on the other.

II. Curriculum and Degree
All courses in the Master’s program are conducted in English. A minimum of 30 units of course work and completion of a Master’s thesis are required for the Master’s degree. The degree offered is “Master of International Cultural Studies,” or “Master of Interdisciplinary Studies.” Students will also be offered a certificate recognizing completion of the program.
