1. Doctoral Dissertation

Number of copies required for submission:

[Doctoral Candidates who have withdrawn upon completion of coursework]

(1) The Dissertation must be constituted of original work by the applicant.

Other than Japanese, dissertations must, in principle, be prepared in English. However, if you receive permission from your supervisor, you can write the dissertation in another language.

The dissertation must have a single author. However, you can use already published co-authored academic papers as part of the Doctoral Dissertation if the following conditions are satisfied:

- ① The main researcher and author of the paper must have been the candidate who is submitting the Dissertation.
- ② All authors other than the dissertation submitter must not be themselves using the article in question, as means for obtaining their Doctoral degree.

If these criteria are met, then candidates must submit an agreement signed by all co-authors consenting to the candidate's use of the article (dōisho 「同意書」, see appended form, Doctoral Candidates: 博在-IV-2-(2), Doctoral Candidates who have withdrawn upon completion of coursework: 博退-III-2-(1)).

- (4) In preparing your dissertation, use a word processing software such as Microsoft Word. We suggest font size 12.
- (5) The examination process begins immediately after submission. Therefore, please be careful to submit a final version of the work, so there is no need for any sort of corrections.

2. Academic Publications

In case academic publications by the author are used as reference, they can be included in the dissertation as appendices. Include the papers in question after the dissertation proper, with a cover page with the words “Academic Publications”. It may include the following kind of papers.

- (1) Papers authored by the candidate as single or co-author.
- (2) Papers whose topic are connected to the dissertation and function as supplement.
- (3) Papers which provide information on the research leading to the dissertation.
- (4) Research outcomes published within the research period.

【Other Matters to be Noted】

1. Awarding of the Doctoral Degree

The final decision regarding the awarding of the degree will be made by the Faculty Senate. Decisions regarding dissertations submitted in November will be made in March, and those submitted in May will be considered in September. Those whose dissertation received final approval from the Senate in March will be awarded their degrees at March Conferral Ceremony, and those who received final approval in September will be awarded their degrees at the Conferral Ceremony of September.

2. The Publication of the Doctoral Dissertation

Those who are awarded the Doctoral Degree must publish the Dissertation within a year since the award. However, this shall not be the case if the candidate has already published his or her work before being awarded the degree.

The publication of your entire doctoral dissertation on the Internet is mandatory.

Until now, it was required that only printed copies of doctoral dissertations be made publicly available within one year of the students' receiving their doctoral degrees. However, due to revisions to regulations regarding degrees, the method of publication has been changed. Therefore, if you received your degree on April 1, 2013 or later, you must publish the entire text of your dissertation on the Internet. If there are "extenuating circumstances," and these circumstances are recognized as valid, you may be allowed to publish only a summary of the dissertation.

A digital copy of the full text of your doctoral dissertation will be stored in the Tohoku University Repository (TOUR).

The TOUR system, which is operated by the Tohoku University Library, is used to publish materials on the Internet. A digital copy of your submitted doctoral dissertation will be provided to the National Diet Library via TOUR. If submitting a summary of the dissertation, it will be stored digitally on TOUR.

Know your rights regarding Internet publication.

You are responsible for understanding your own rights regarding Internet publication of your submitted doctoral dissertation, for example copyright policies related to publishing (Internet publication policy) and patent application procedures, etc.

What constitutes "extenuating circumstances?"

Some examples follow:

The dissertation relies on physical objects, which cannot themselves be published on the Internet.

The dissertation contains information which cannot be published on the Internet for over one year due to restrictions related to copyright or personal privacy.

Publication of the full text on the Internet is inadvisable for more than one year due to issues related to publication in a periodical or academic journal that forbids its mass publication.

Publication of the full text on the Internet is inadvisable for more than one year due issues related to pending patent applications.

If any of these apply, obtain permission from your academic supervisor to submit a "Doctoral Dissertation Summary Registration Application." Upon receiving approval from the dean of the Graduate School of International Cultural Studies, you will be allowed to publish just a summary of the full text of your doctoral dissertation.

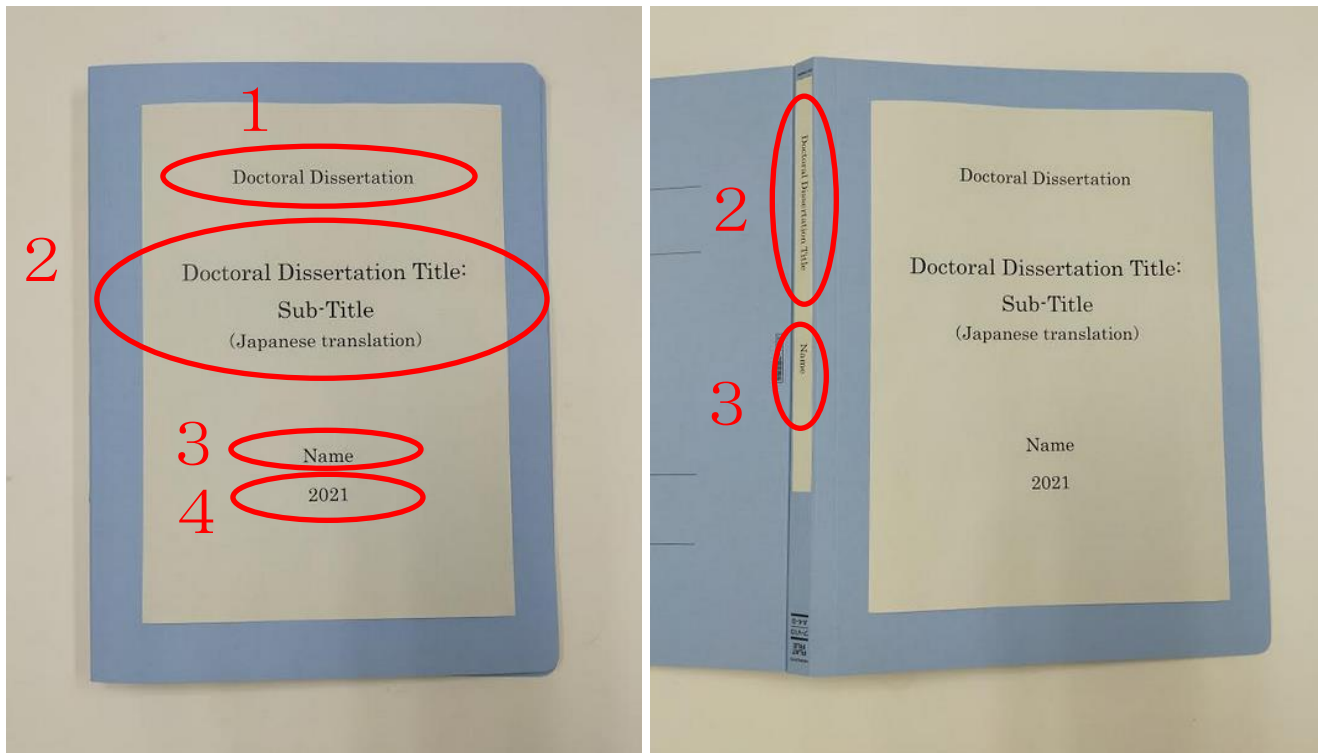

For students who wish to complete their studies in September, the deadline for "Doctoral Dissertation Summary Registration Application" submission is August 18. For students who wish to complete their studies in March, the deadline is February 15.

Note 1: After publishing a summary of your dissertation due to "extenuating circumstances," you must promptly publish the full text once those circumstances are resolved. Therefore, the "Doctoral Dissertation Summary Registration Application" includes a space to enter the date of full publication.

Note 2: Even if you will register only a summary of your doctoral dissertation on TOUR, you must still submit the full text to the National Diet Library.
