Please note that those who submit the doctoral dissertation after a year has passed are treated as a doctor without completing the doctoral coursework (thesis only).

How to Submit Your Doctoral Dissertation

【Submission Deadline: May 30, 2025(Fri.) by 17:15】

1. Doctoral Dissertation

The same number of dissertation committee members + 1 copies. (Please check with your supervisor.):

One of them will be treated as an original for examination by putting an " Original " sticker on it at the Academic Affairs Office when it is submitted.

(1) The dissertation must be constituted of original work by the doctoral candidate.

Other than Japanese, English is the language used in the dissertation. However, if you receive permission from your supervisor, the dissertation may be written in another language.

The dissertation must be a single-author work. However, you can use already published co-authored academic papers as part of the doctoral dissertation if the following conditions are satisfied:

- ① The main researcher and author of the paper must have been the candidate who is submitting the dissertation.
- ② All authors other than the doctoral candidate must not be themselves using the article in question, as means for obtaining their doctoral degree.

If these criteria are met, then candidates must submit an agreement signed by all co-authors consenting to the candidate's use of the article (dōisho 「同意書」, see appended form, Doctoral Candidates: 博在－IV－2－(2), Doctoral Candidates who have withdrawn upon completion of coursework: 博退－III－2－(1)).

- (2) Duplicates should also be in A4-size paper, left-bound in case the text is horizontal, and right-bound if vertical. Please put the cover page on the first page.
- (3) The cover and spine should follow the respective examples provided by school. Note that if the candidate submits the dissertation in a format different from that required, they may be requested to amend the work.
- (4) When preparing your dissertation, use a word processing software such as Microsoft Word. We suggest 72 characters × 25 lines per page and font size 12. This is just a guideline and can be adjusted accordingly.
- (5) Before final submission, you must submit your dissertation draft to your supervisor upon their request in order to receive necessary research guidance. The examination process begins immediately after submission. Therefore, please be careful to submit a final version of the work, so there is no need for any sort of corrections.

2. Academic Publications

If you have academic publications, which is used in the dissertation as reference, they can be included in the dissertation as appendices. Include the papers in question after the dissertation proper, with a cover page with the words “Academic Publications”. It may include the following kind of papers.

- (1) Papers authored by the candidate as single or co-author.
- (2) Papers whose topic are connected to the dissertation and function as supplement.
- (3) Papers which provide information on the research leading to the dissertation.

(4) Research outcomes published within the research period.

3. Doctoral Dissertation Abstract (approximately 10 pages, including pictures and charts): 1 copy in PDF format

- (1) The abstract should be written in English, using a word processing software. It should be within approximately 10 A4-size pages, including pictures and charts.
- (2) The abstract should summarize the contents of the entire dissertation, including the purpose, methods, and results of the research.
- (3) The abstract can be divided into sections which can reflect the structure of the dissertation.
- (4) On the abstract's cover, put the name and position of all each of your supervisors.
- (5) Please submit via the Google form below.

ATTN: Students Submitting Doctoral Dissertations

The publication of your entire doctoral dissertation on the Internet is mandatory.

Until now, it was required that only printed copies of doctoral dissertations be made publicly available within one year of the students' receiving their doctoral degrees. However, due to revisions to regulations regarding degrees, the method of publication has been changed. Therefore, if you received your degree on April 1, 2013 or later, you must publish the entire text of your dissertation on the Internet. If there are "extenuating circumstances," and these circumstances are recognized as valid, you may be allowed to publish only a summary of the dissertation.

A digital copy of the full text of your doctoral dissertation will be stored in the Tohoku University Repository (TOUR).

The TOUR system, which is operated by the Tohoku University Library, is used to publish materials on the Internet. A digital copy of your submitted doctoral dissertation will be provided to the National Diet Library via TOUR. If submitting a summary of the dissertation, it will be stored digitally on TOUR.

Know your rights regarding Internet publication.

You are responsible for understanding your own rights regarding Internet publication of your submitted doctoral dissertation, for example copyright policies related to publishing (Internet publication policy) and patent application procedures, etc.

What constitutes "extenuating circumstances?"

Some examples follow:

- The dissertation relies on physical objects, which cannot themselves be published on the Internet.
- The dissertation contains information which cannot be published on the Internet for over one year due to restrictions related to copyright or personal privacy.
- Publication of the full text on the Internet is inadvisable for more than one year due to issues related to publication in a periodical or academic journal that forbids its mass publication.
- Publication of the full text on the Internet is inadvisable for more than one year due issues related to pending patent applications.

If any of these apply, obtain permission from your academic supervisor to submit a "Doctoral Dissertation Summary Registration Application." Upon receiving approval from the dean of the Graduate School of International Cultural Studies, you will be allowed to publish just a summary of the full text of your doctoral dissertation.

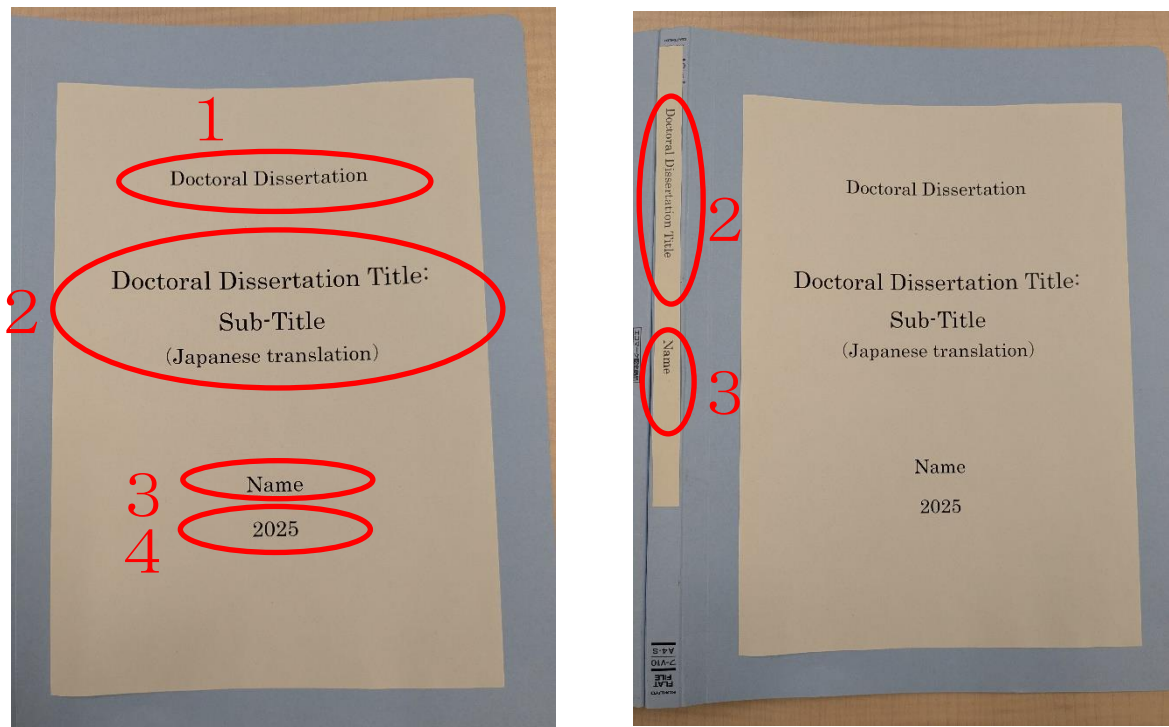

For students who wish to complete their studies in September, the deadline for "Doctoral Dissertation Summary Registration Application" submission is August 18. For students who wish to complete their studies in March, the deadline is February 13.

Note 1: After publishing a summary of your dissertation due to "extenuating circumstances," you must promptly publish the full text once those circumstances are resolved. Therefore, the "Doctoral Dissertation Summary Registration Application" includes a space to enter the date of full publication.

Note 2: Even if you will register only a summary of your doctoral dissertation on TOUR, you must still submit the full text to the National Diet Library.
