

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The First Tohoku Conference on Global Japanese Studies

The International Graduate Program in Japanese Studies at Tohoku University, Japan, is pleased to announce a call for submissions for the First Tohoku Conference on Global Japanese Studies. The conference aims to provide, for scholars of Japan from a range of ages, nationalities and disciplines, an opportunity to exchange ideas, thus fostering the possibility of further collaboration.

Conference Dates and Venue

Dec. 14-16, 2018, Tohoku University, Sendai, Japan
(Conference starts in the late afternoon of Dec. 14)

Abstract Submission Deadline

Monday, Sep. 10, 2018

Conference Topic

The Meiji Restoration Revisited: Culture, Religion, and the State

The Meiji Restoration of 1868 has been studied primarily from a political perspective. But this major event also made new forms of knowledge, thinking, and representation widely available, and brought new religious, cultural, and linguistic transformations, changing once and for all the way the inhabitants of the Japanese islands understood themselves in a global context. These changes of 1868 also brought wide-ranging effects in Asia and the rest of the world. On the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the Meiji Restoration, this conference aims to reconsider the Meiji Restoration from a cultural perspective, and to think about the intersections between on the one hand cultural and religious changes, and political and legal on the other, while trying to find its place in the overall context of global history.

Submissions are, however, not limited to the above-mentioned topic. Working sessions will also be held in parallel with the topic sessions, concerning broader issues related to Japan in various fields of humanities and social sciences. One of the workig groups will focus on Japanese Society and its Challenges-Historical Background and Perspectives. We especially welcome submissions from young scholars and graduate students.

Keynote Speakers

Prof. James E. Ketelaar (The University of Chicago)
Prof. Kenshin Kirihara (Kinjo Gakuin University)

Important Dates

Deadline of abstract submission	Sep. 10, 2018
Notification of acceptance	Sep. 30, 2018
Conference	Dec. 14-16, 2018

Conference Language

English or Japanese

Abstract Format

Abstracts should consist of approximately 200-400 words in English. Author names and affiliations should not be included in the abstract, which must be submitted in PDF format. Conference proceedings will be published in open-access digital formats.

Travel and Accommodation Expenses

Travel and accommodation expenses should be covered by the participants themselves.

Organizing Committee

Naoyuki Ono (Chair)
Hiroaki Adachi
Clinton Godart
Yoshihiro Imoto
Hiroshi Kabashima
Orion Klautau
Hiroki Oka
Koji Oono
Hiroki Takakura
Takenobu Yuki

Contact

Please send abstracts to the address below:
meiji150.tohoku@gmail.com

For more information please refer to the website below:
https://www.sal.tohoku.ac.jp/japanese_studies/